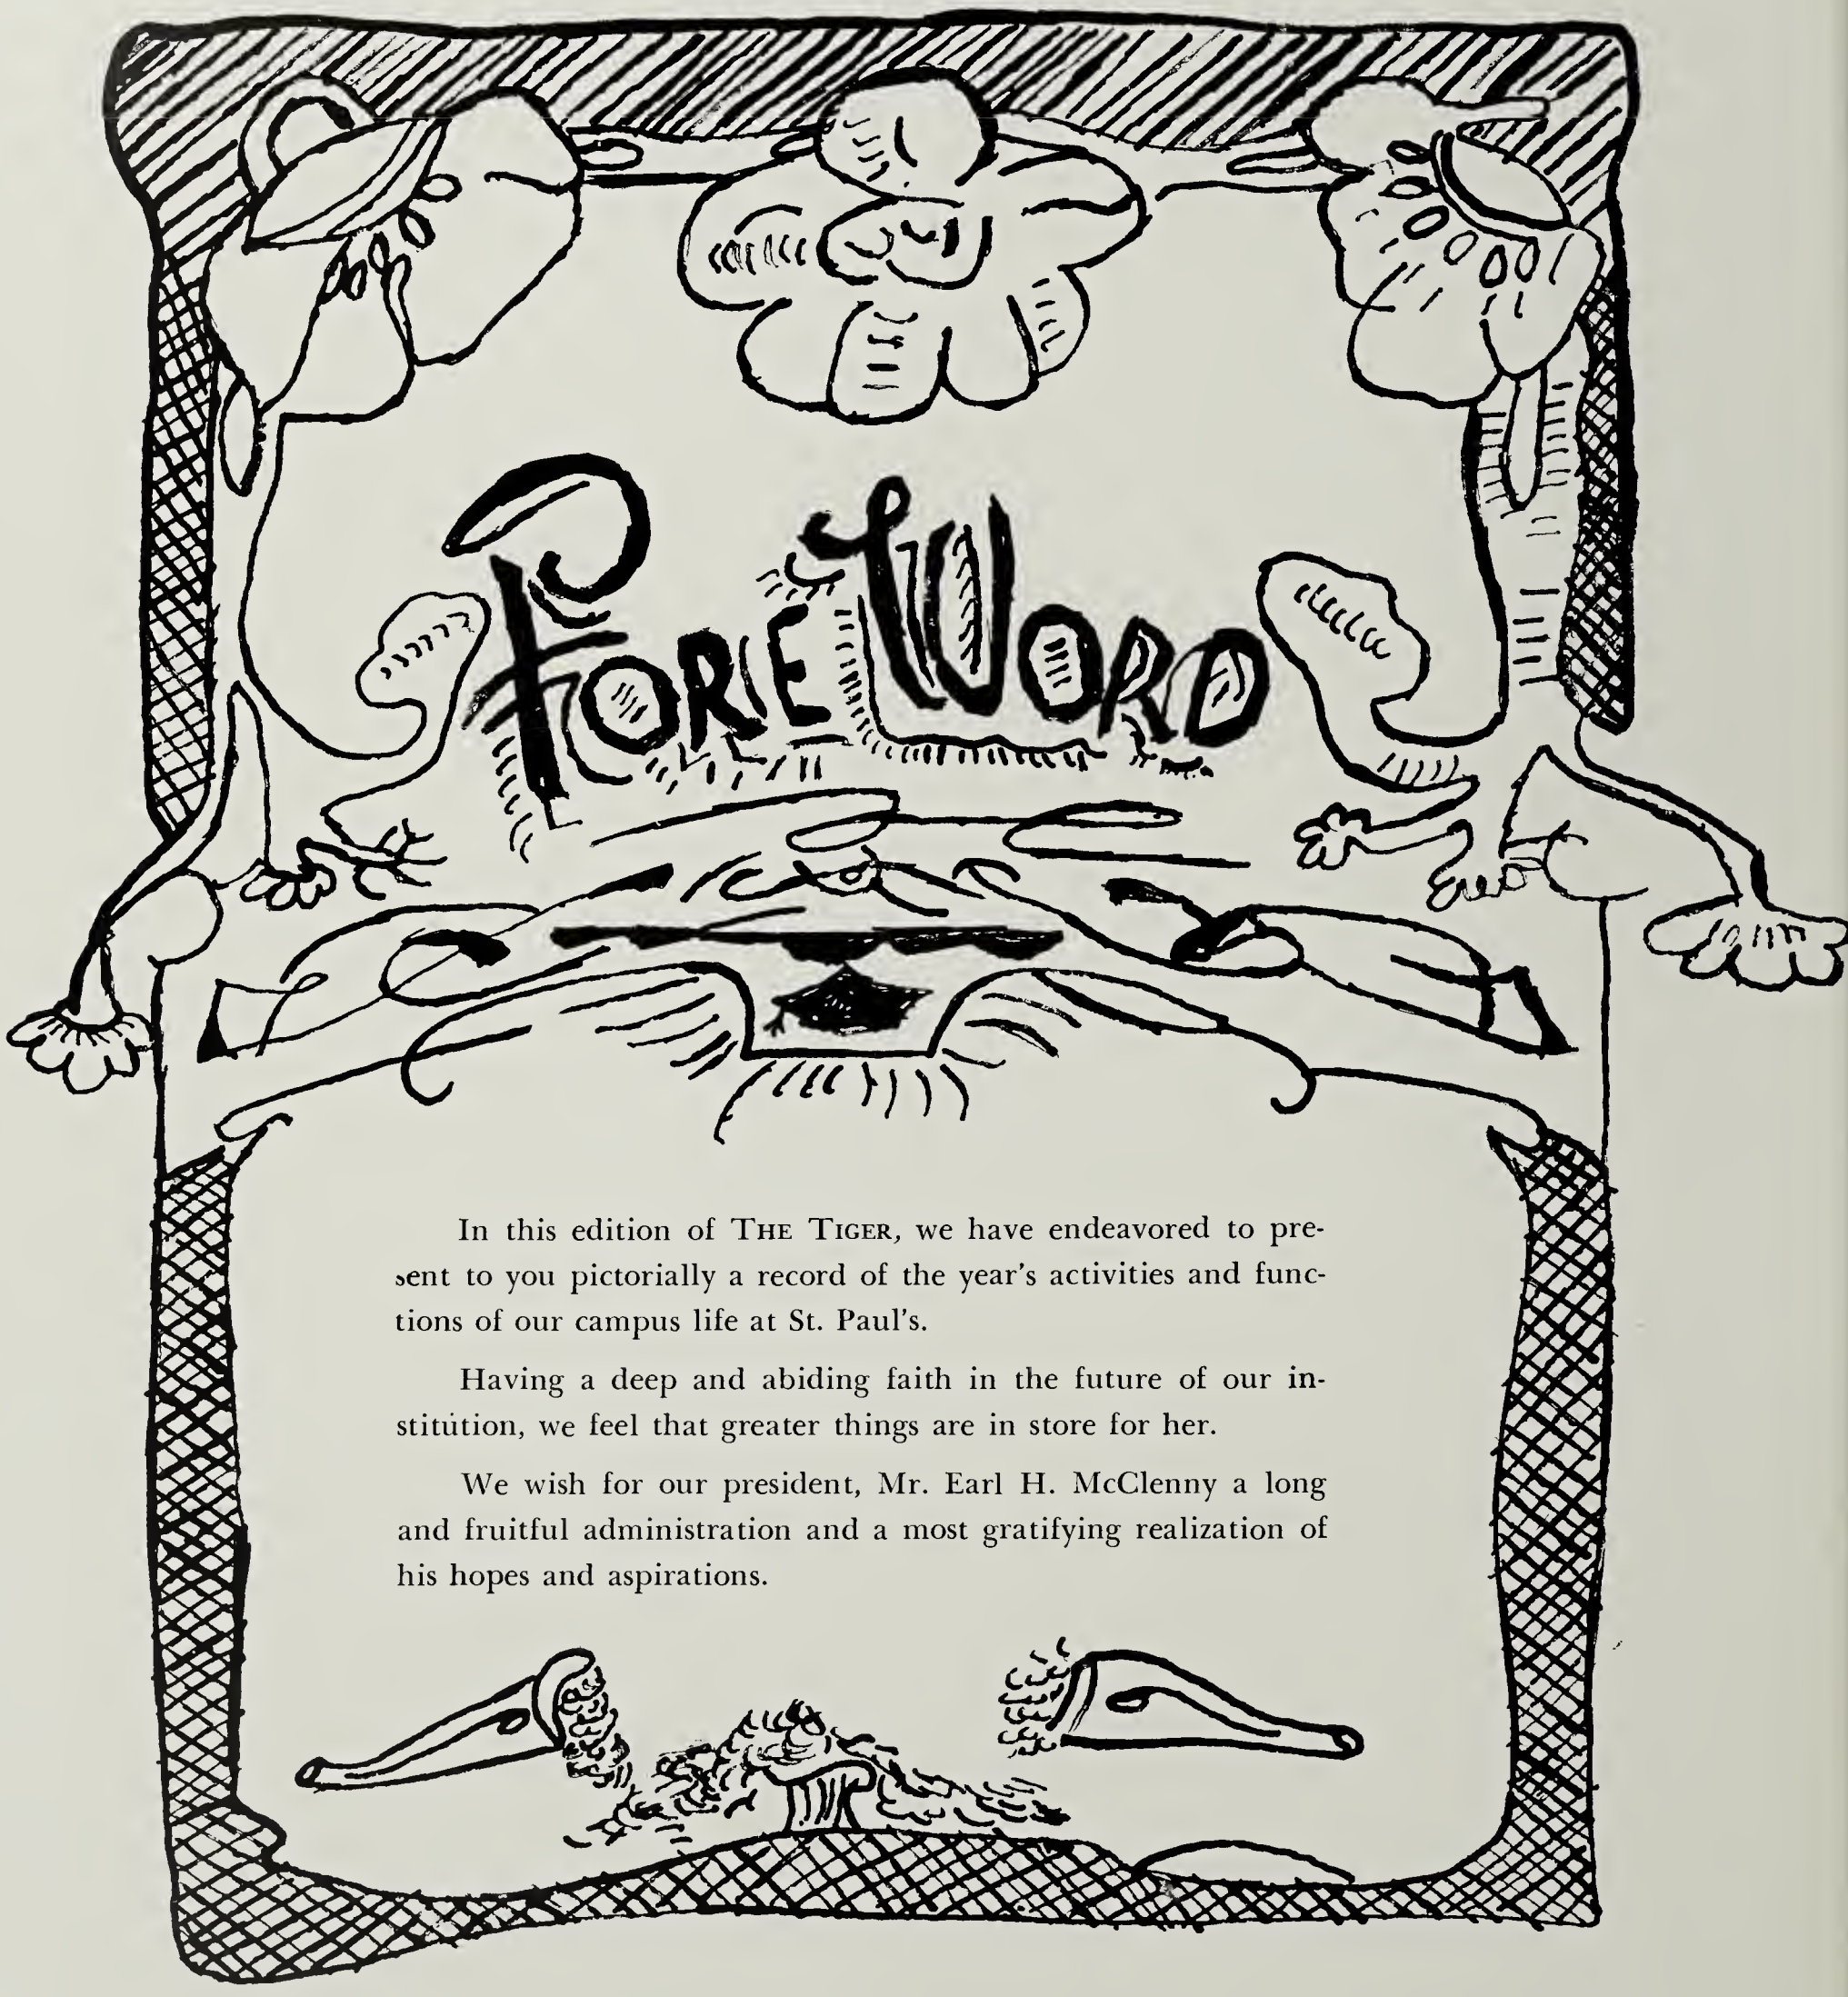
Tiger



In this edition of THE TIGER, we have endeavored to present to you pictorially a record of the year's activities and functions of our campus life at St. Paul's.

Having a deep and abiding faith in the future of our institution, we feel that greater things are in store for her.

We wish for our president, Mr. Earl H. McClenny a long and fruitful administration and a most gratifying realization of his hopes and aspirations.

M. ODELL SANDS

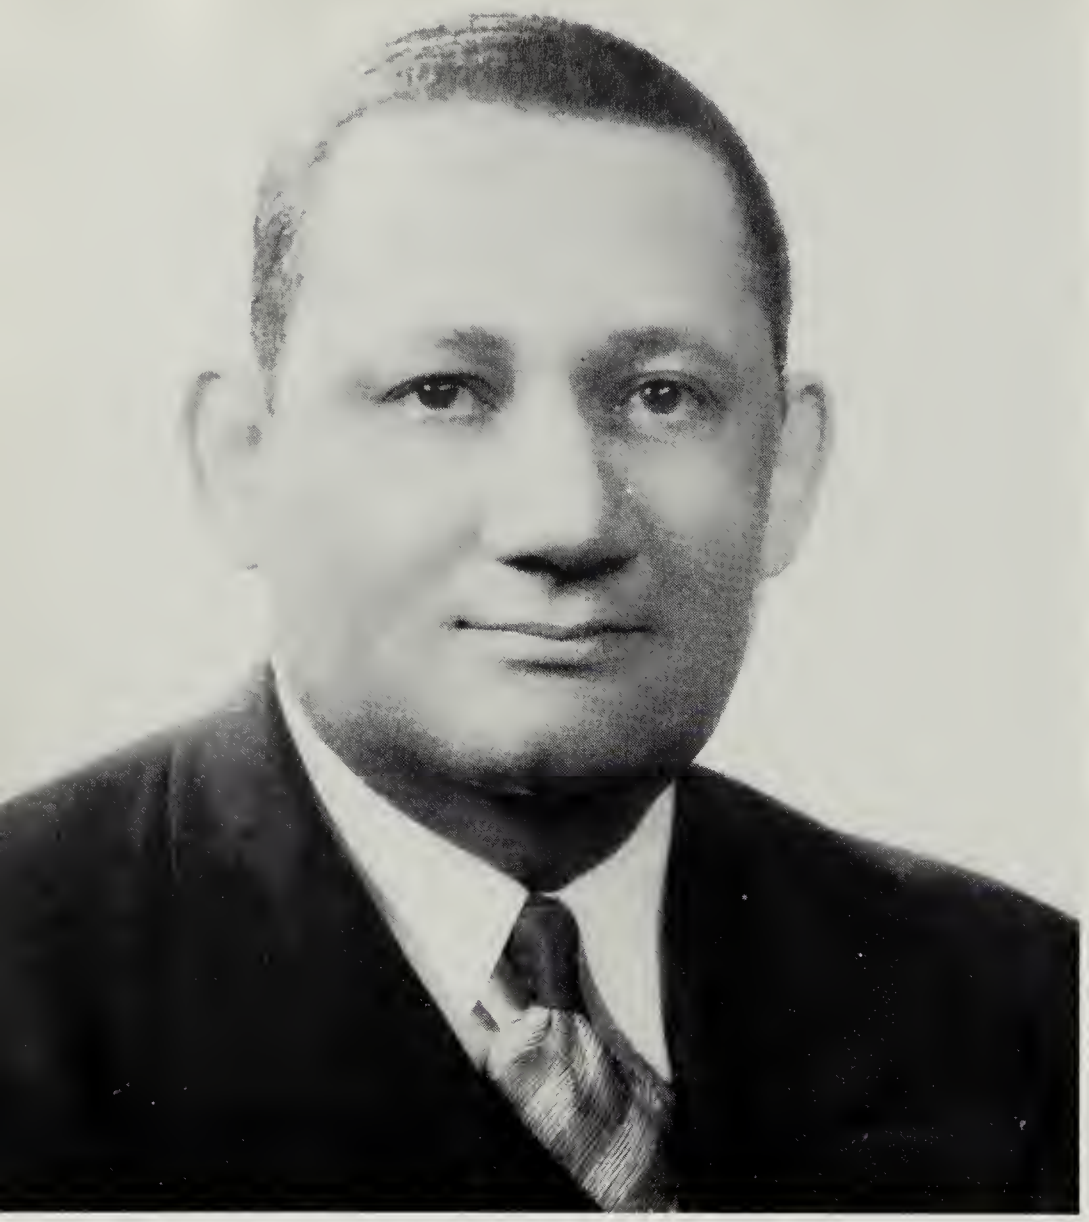
Dedication

With gratitude and humility, we dedicate this, the 1953 edition of THE TIGER to our advisers, who have shared with us our hardships and our joys.

Through their concentrated efforts in stimulating interest in our class and in striving for the welfare of our Alma Mater, they have won the love and admiration of all.

We shall ever remember their sincere endeavors and their kindnesses in aiding us to complete successfully, a four-year college career.

ROBERT A. BRYANT



My dear Friends:

It is always a privilege to commend a group for a job well done and I take particular pleasure in congratulating you for this splendid yearbook.

I am not unaware of the difficulties that you encountered in accomplishing this task, nor of the tenacity and ingenuity that you displayed in resolving them. This achievement not only reflects credit upon you who directly participated in this project, but also enhances the prestige of the entire school and adds lustre to every life that has touched your own.

In a few days you will finish your work at this institution and join the honorable ranks of our Alumni Association. I know that you will recall the years spent here as among the most important and best years of your life. For here you have drunk deeply of the heritage of generations and here, too, you have greatly enriched that heritage for the generations who follow.

Yet in a broader sense you will not have completed, but merely commenced the great work which life has placed before you. The responsibility devolves on each of us individually and collectively to guarantee that this century truly becomes the century of triumphant Christian living.

Saint Paul's stands as it has always stood, ready to assist you in every possible way toward the realization of this aim, and our past experience makes us confident that this feeling is fully reciprocated.

Again I congratulate you and wish you continued success.

Sincerely yours,

Earl H. McClenney

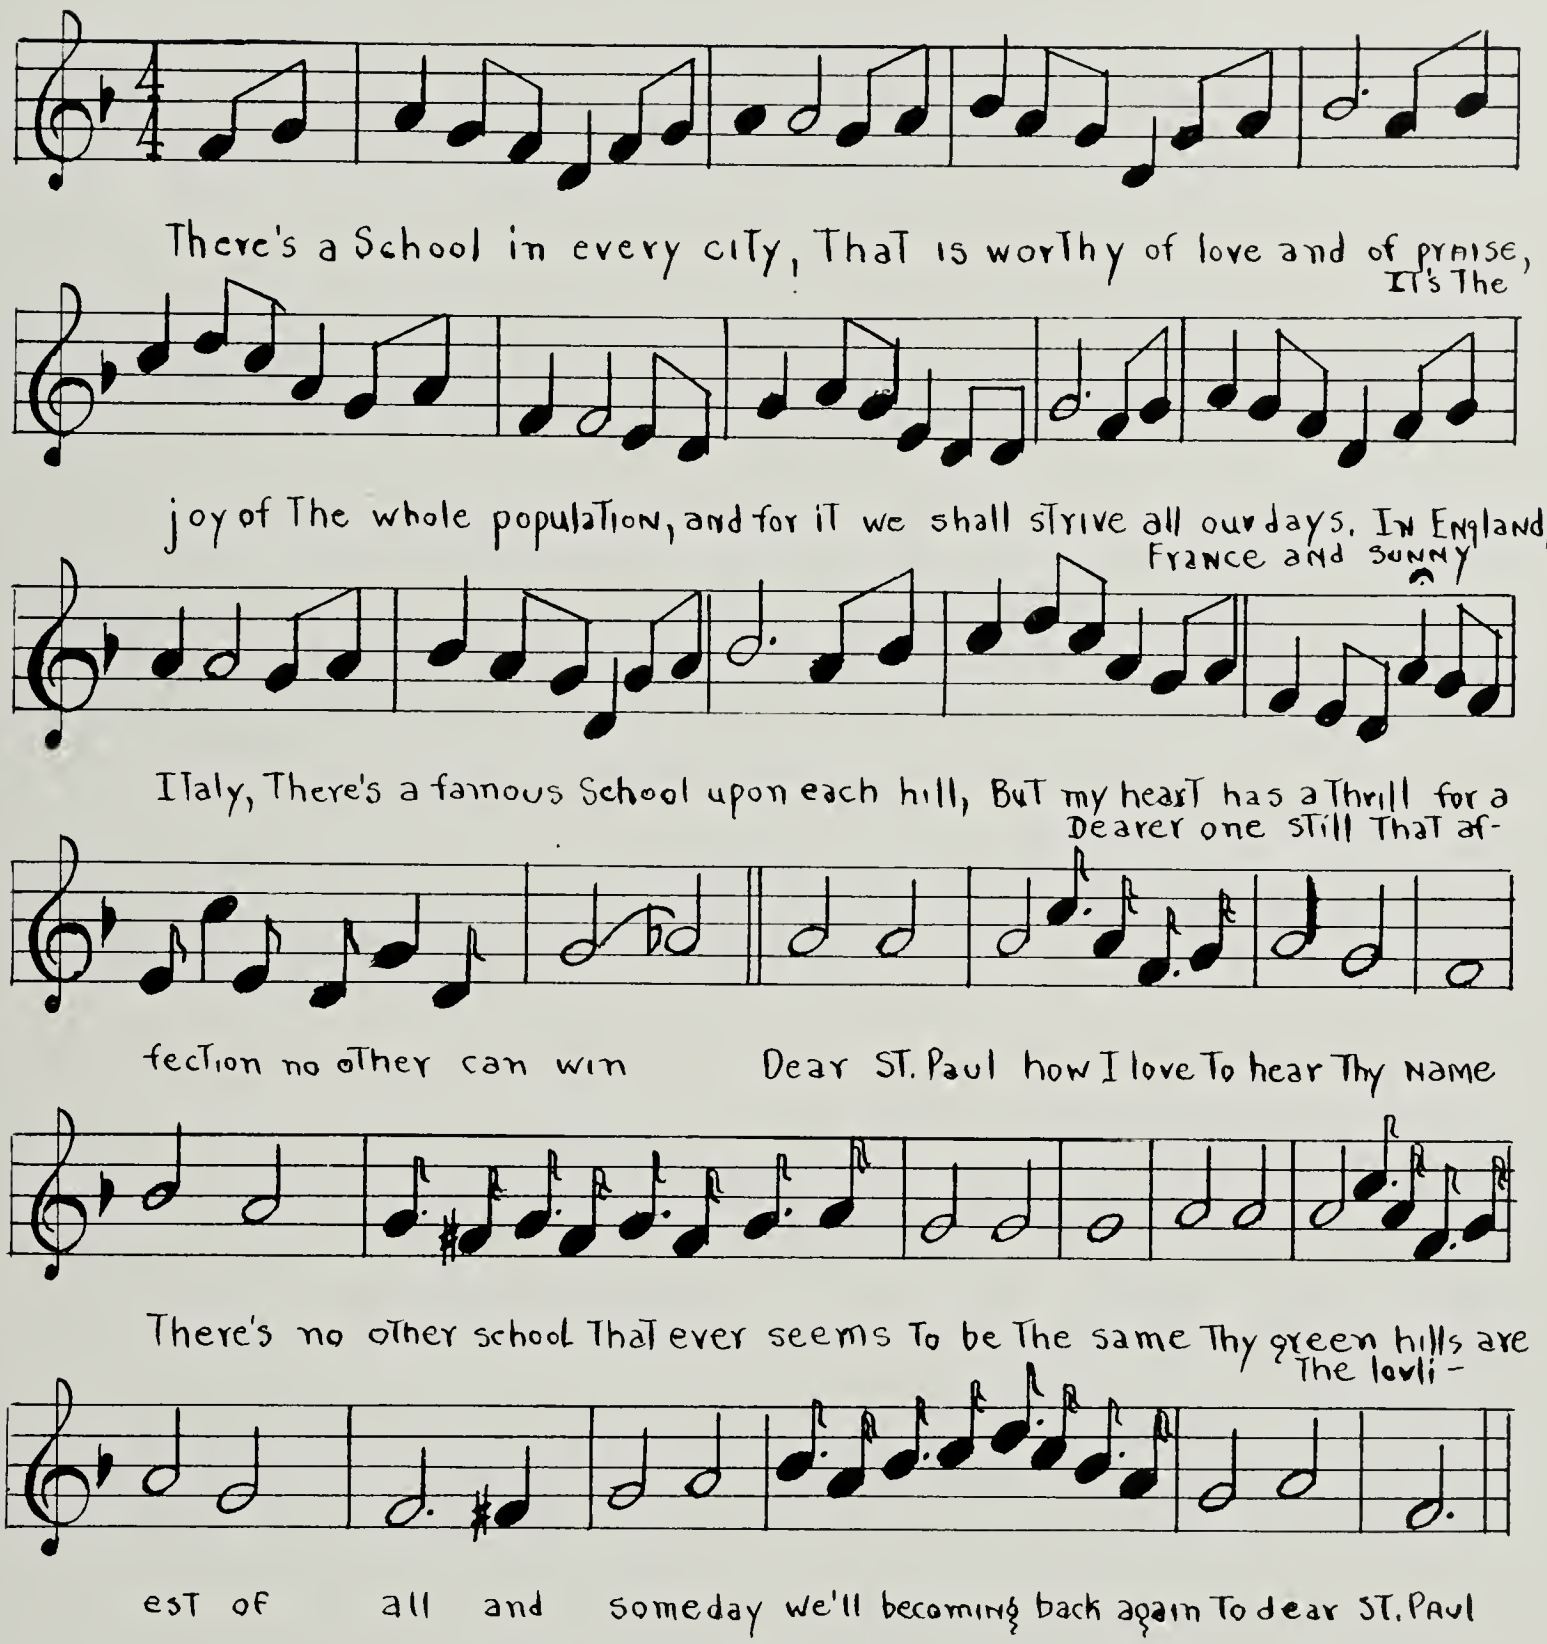
To dear St. Paul's."

Alma Mater



She has faults, but why should we mind Them,
And away from St. Paul seek To move,
For wherever you go you will find Them;
But we're young and have Time To improve
I love The old school I admit it,
With its faults and its struggles and all,
And I'd sooner next fall go back To St. Paul
Than To any old school That I know.

Class History

Four short years ago, the majority of us, the class of 1953, entered the portals of St. Paul's Polytechnic Institute as Freshmen. We came, ambitious and enthusiastic with an unexplored land of learning confronting us.

We found at St. Paul's an atmosphere of goodwill, comradeship and democratic freedom which at first was somewhat intangible; but which after four years spent within these walls, we know as the spirit of St. Paul's — a spirit that is the axis upon which our college world turns.

We can never forget the pleasant September afternoon when we assembled in the St. Paul's Memorial Chapel and listened to words of welcome and advice given us by Chaplain Jones. Despite the encouraging remarks from our President, Chaplain and Faculty, we were intimidated by taunts of "Freshies" hurled at us by the upperclassmen.

Never-the-less, we were determined to be the best class that entered St. Paul's, so we applied ourselves with admirable zeal, to the tasks that were before us. When the call for volunteers for the choir, campus clubs and athletics was issued, several of our number responded. In October, our faculty advisers deemed us sufficiently intelligent to organize our class, and we selected as officers: Frederick Friday, President; Fred Thompson, Vice-President; Dorris Russell, Secretary; Martha Scott, Business Manager; and Bernard Coleman, Treasurer.

All too soon, the first school year ended and we in turn dubbed the new entrants "Freshies." During our second year, many of our classmates dropped out. However, we were still striving to do our best scholastically, and as a result many of our names appeared on the honor roll. The Sophomore class officers were: James Wright, President; Fred Thompson, Vice-President; Allen Burwell, Treasurer; Dorris Russell, Secretary; Carlton Hazell, Chaplain; and Martha Scott, Business Manager.

September of 1951 arrived and with it the knowledge that we were Juniors and all that the name implies. Most important was that never-to-be forgotten day, when our class organized and elected: Carlton Hazell, President; Mary Baskerville, Secretary; and James Wright, Treasurer. Several events marked this as our most important year. Our social activities were climaxed by the Junior-Senior Prom which was held in the Kirby Auditorium on May 28. The Auditorium was beautifully decorated; the music was excellent and everyone had an enjoyable time.

Thus, another year rolled by and we entered St. Paul's as illustrious, intelligent, dignified and all important Seniors. Realizing that this was our last year, we were determined to make it the best. Class organization took place early and all officers of the junior class were re-elected. Our President, Carlton Hazell, appointed committees to many duties connected with our graduation.

As we spoke and thought of graduation, our joy became mingled with a touch of sadness. We had experienced the joys of being members of an institution with high ideals and high spirit, and we were sad that our days here would soon end. Knowing that this year held our last chance to prove our appreciation, we participated as whole heartedly as possible in the various activities.

The time has come for us to depart but the memory of life here, we shall carry with us. The same true spirit and the same high ideals and the characteristics of our participation in the activities and classes while at St. Paul's will surely inspire us to lead a life of humbleness and to seek an earnest endeavor.

Last Will and Testament

State of — Virginia

Town of — Lawrenceville

County of — Brunswick

Date — May 28, 1953

We the class of 1953, possessing sound minds and bodies, and drawing from the intelligence bestowed upon us by our creator, do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

To our Alma Mater, which we love so dearly, we give our solemn promise to hold her name in the highest esteem.

ARTICLE II

To our beloved president, Earl H. McClenney, and members of the faculty, we promise sincerely to follow their teachings which have been so deeply instilled within us.

ARTICLE III

To the juniors, we bequeath our dignity and position which we have acquired through toil and untiring efforts. To the sophomores, we leave the ability of drive and fight which we possessed many years ago when the battle looked dreary. To the freshmen, we leave this thought; "as the years pass, you will one day be the idol of the student-body," prepare yourself now so that your leadership will be as a model for those who follow.

ARTICLE IV

Marrian Neal wills her technique of having fun without being campus bound, to the girls of Emery Hall.

Evelyn Sears leaves her ability not to be influenced by others to Ada Feggins.

Zeta Brown leaves Mary Brown and Adelene Warren her ability to keep calm during stages of excitement.

Carrie Fitzgerald leaves her ability to keep quiet to Marie Via and Ruth Ingram.

Rosia Burke leaves Harry Truhart her after holiday permit in hopes that he will not have to pay five dollars next year for being late.

Martha Butterworth leaves Deemes Melvin for Janie Scott.

Mollie Carter leaves Mary Moody her source box. She hopes that Mary will make good use of it next year.

Elora Fleet wills her ability to stay on the honor roll to Marion Powell.

Ella Frye wills her ability to be serious to Frances Price.

Barbara Fulford wills her friendly disposition and ability to get along with people to all "cute" freshmen.

Pauline Gilliam bequeaths her irresistible figure to Vivian Hamlin.

Sophronia Goode leaves her height and petite feet to Valerie Minters.

Salene Hardy bequeaths her boy friends and her position in the gang (BTO Club) to Virginia Farrar.

Margaret Grant wills to Marion Powell a gallon of "white paint" so that she can have everything the color she wants it.

Sallie Harris leaves to Helen Fitzgerald her ability of practice teaching.
Frances Howard leaves her "sophisticated air" to Loretta Hardy.
Carlton Hazell advises any one taking History as his major to heed Miss Wesley's advice.
Frank P. Scott leaves Ivory J. Hutchinson his cosmopolitan viewpoint.
Viola Haskins wills her ability to act natural to Shirley Stamps, and hopes she will gain a position in the gang.
Allen Burwell wills his quietness to John Guyton.
Edward Fontaine bequeaths his "Martinsville Kid" sailor cap to Yosif Roane.
Martha Scott wills her dignity to Rosa Cobbs.
Magdalene Leary leaves Robert Dobson to a certain young lady in the junior class.
George Jones wills his ability to keep cigarettes at all times to Gruver Steward.
George Sample wills his scholastic ability to George Price, Jr.
Mary Neal wills her practice teaching room to Adelle Wilson and hopes that she will continue the good work.
Dorris Russell endows Duke Harrison with her quality of being reserved in speech.
James C. Wright wills his headaches and a box of aspirins to Mr. Amos Watkins.
Wesley Hall leaves his position as president of the Student Council to any hard-working junior who wants to work harder.
Ulysses Evans wills to Charles White a box of shoe polish.
Moses Lee leaves his ability to keep clean coveralls to Humphrey Seay.
Dolores Thompson wills her room (102) to Francis Price and Virginia King.
Mediel Wallace leaves her ability of practice teaching in the second and third grades to Virginia King.
Marcella Ward wills her petiteness to Snow Ella Jones.
David Byrdsong leaves his ability to be on time for trade to "Red Bones."
Rubie Reavis leaves her ability to act dignified and lady-like to Minett Bartley.
Dorothy Washington wills her tallness to her roommate, Velma Townes.
Mary Baskerville wills her ability to win friends and keep them, to Marion Powell.
Edna Brinkley wills her dancing ability to Aubrey Jackson and Evelyn Selden.
Lillian Thompson wills Joseph Mitchell to Jackie Fentress and wishes her much success.
Forrester Valentine wills his ability to charm the women to George Bruce.
Wadell L. Payton bequeaths his cool walk, clothes of style, and long mustache to Thomas Bowser and Oscar Riddick.
George Evans wills all the things that he did not do and hoped to do, to Kemper Hoffler hoping that he will do them.

We hereby nominate, constitute and appoint our class attorney to be executor of this Last Will and Testament.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hand and seal this twenty-eighth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty three.

Class

As the palmist gazes deeply into the palms of the graduating class of '53, the year 1963 appears, a year of eventful happenings, of successful struggles. Read what the palmist sees!

Elora Fleet, Marion Neal and Dolores Thompson are teaching in one of the elementary schools in San Francisco. Mary Neal and Catherine Fuller own an elaborate food laboratory in Alaska. Fred Thompson and David Byrdsong's Construction Company designed their building. Samuel Ellison, the building inspector, is employed by James C. Wright, Superintendent of Building Trades. Guess What? Lamar Sessoms has moved back to Texas to supervise the $95,000,000,000 oil wells of Wesley (money) Hall. Allen Burwell's Corporation is one of his largest buyers.

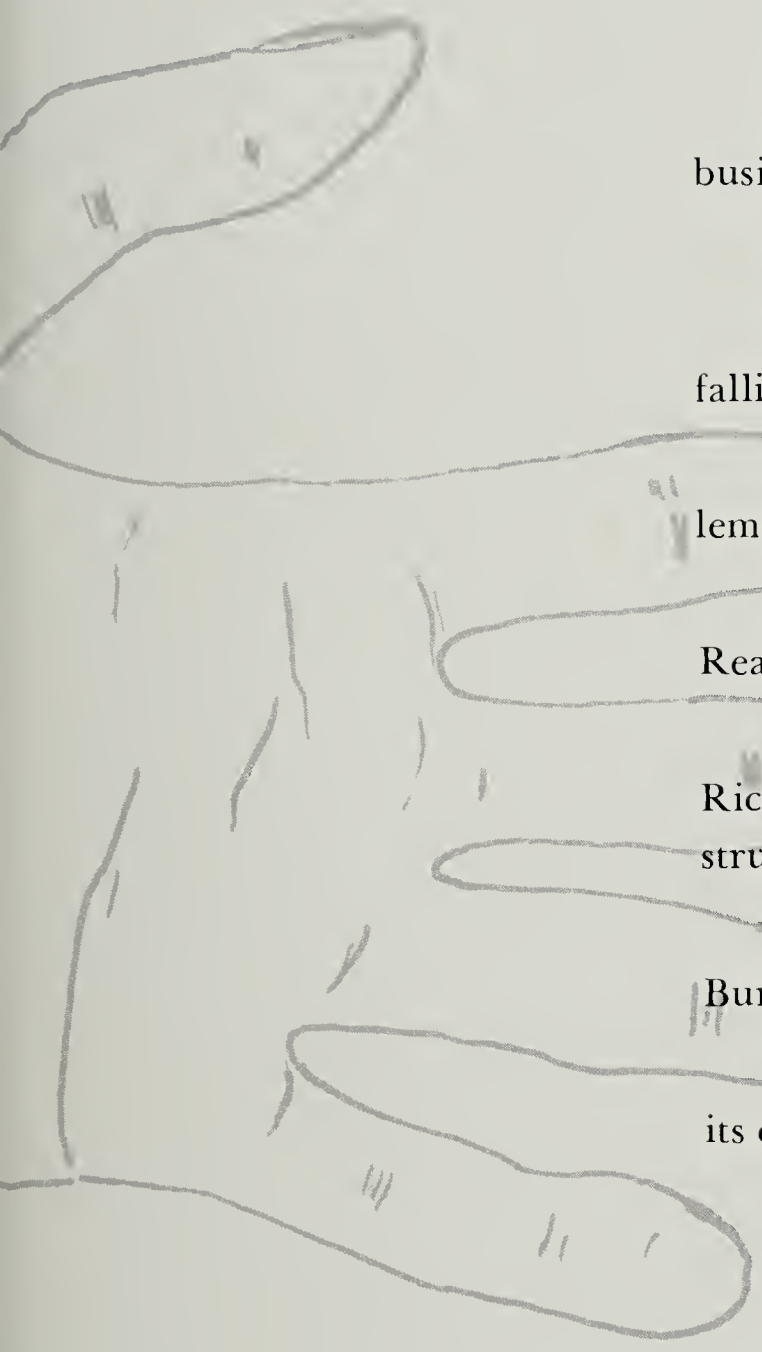
As the palmist reads on, she sees Evelyn Sears as owner of the largest fashion shop in Paris. Her models are Marcella Ward and Magdalene Leary.

Sophronia Goods and Carrie Fitzgerald are directors of Music at Howard University.

Barbara Fulford and Rosia Burke are comedians and are now on tour in Hollywood.

Mollie Carter, Ella Frye and Dorothy Coleman are now Saints. Father Hazell is still converting souls.

Prophecy



Appearing on TV is Forrester Valentine. Mediel Wallace is his business manager.

Edward Brown has just invented a gun with an electronic eye.

Robert McCoy, the great scientist has proven Galileo's Theory of falling bodies to be a fallacy.

Martha Barnes is still in North Carolina trying to solve the problems of the younger generation.

The palmist has now discovered that Salene Hardy and Nettie Reavis have eloped and are now living in Pasadena, California.

Appearing on the scene, is George Evans, it is because of Joseph Rice, Ulysses Evans, and Dawes Orr that he is part owner of a construction firm known from coast to coast.

Observing closely, the palmist sees a tall figure -- ah, it is Lloyd Burton. He operates a chain of tailoring shops.

The palmist is losing her power of concentration; 1963 is nearing its close. What happens now will have to be surmised. . .
